Overview

State Laws in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia recognized comprehensive rights for this segment of society, and furnished them with means supporting them to achieve their rights. To ensure a decent life for them and the ability to integrate into all sectors of society through their rehabilitation and health care, and facilitated for them all the means that enable them to live with their families, and provided free subsidies and facilities that take into account their needs and gave them priority in all government sectors over other normal people.

- From this standpoint, an initiative was launched to develop services for people with disabilities and provide a form for receiving ideas via Twitter.
